COMMUNITY & CONGREGATIONAL PROFILE

COMMUNITY PROFILE:

Millburn-Short Hills is located twenty miles west of New York City. Short Hills is a section of Millburn Township that is delineated by a separate zip code. Many of our residents commute into New York and are affluent, well-educated professionals and business managers. Our public school system is highly ranked both statewide and nationally. In addition, there are numerous excellent private schools within the area. The Congregation consists primarily of town residents. However, our location on the edge of town makes it convenient for our members who live in Livingston, Chatham, Maplewood, South Orange and many other surrounding communities to attend Worship Service and to participate in the life of the Church.

CONGREGATIONAL PROFILE:

Community Congregational Church turned 50 in 2003. With its gleaming white spire, our church is located high on a ridge on Parsonage Hill, in Short Hills, New Jersey. We are one of ten houses of worship within Millburn Township. Our community has diverse denominations and we are the only United Church of Christ affiliated denomination in town.

We have maintained an active membership of about 140 family/pledging units during the past five years. Faced with changes in our area's demographics, the transient nature of professionals being attracted to and being transferred from our area, the increase in religious offerings and the general decline in church attendance, we recognize the importance of growing our membership in order to remain a vital part of our community.
